

DRINKING GAME EXPLANATIONS

Take a sneak peek at Async Labs atmosphere and culture with some of the terms we use on a day-to-day basis.

Have fun playing and stay safe!

Async library	We have a library with various technical and soft skill books we can read during a break, use for research or borrow just like a real library.
Async-versary	A day we celebrate a work anniversary at Async Labs and thank each person for their contribution. Oh yeah, and they get a #Asyncversary post on Instagram.
Cash register	An internal cash register for ordering food when we don't have cash on hand.
Clocking time	We clock our hours for each task and project so that our PMs can make stats and reports. We can also track how productive and efficient we are, as well as progress we made!
Đevrek friday	Definitely a must-try dish, if you haven't already! Or wait for your first Friday at Async Labs.
Energy boost	This space on the board was created for our CEO, who loves energy drinks.
Group training	We have arranged group workouts three times a week in a gym just one floor down from our office.
PPPP	"Pet piva poslije posla" or Five beers after work. When we see PPPP in our Slack channel, we instantly know it's time for beers. "After work."
Retro	Short for Retrospective meetings we hold every two weeks, where we reflect on what has been done and what is next.
Secret Santa	Around Christmas time we play Secret Santa by leaving small gifts around the office for them and the goal is to get to know each other better.
SRM	Strategic Relationships Meetings we hold a few times per year with the head of the department.
SRM Sync Lab
